

Reroute of Trail between Monck Rd and Corben Lake

Why

- old trail had been severely degraded by atvs
- new snowmobile trail has been created left purple line to more pinkish line
- culvert's have been installed at the bottom of Corben Lake (permanently raising Corben Lake)
- remove 1.2 kms of road walking

New trail should approximate yellow line to pinkish line to the bottom of Corben Lake. The pinkish line is a forest road and the yellow is to be cut through the woods. We are also rerouting the trail at Val Portage because the water crossing is now over 15 cm deep and approximately 75 metres long. The reroute roughly follows the contour line to the west of the x. I expect the reroutes to add at least ½ km to the route.
